TREATY<sup>1</sup> BETWEEN THE ITALIAN REPUBLIC AND THE SOCIALIST FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF YUGOSLAVIA

The Contracting Parties,

Convinced that peaceful co-operation and good-neighbourly relations between the two countries and their peoples serve the basic interests of the two States,

Considering that the agreements which they have heretofore concluded have created conditions favourable to the further development and strengthening of mutual relations,

Convinced that equality among States, renunciation of the use of force and consequent respect for sovereignty, territorial integrity and the inviolability of borders, peaceful settlement of disputes, non-interference in the internal affairs of other States and respect for freedoms and basic rights are, together with the fulfilment in good faith of all international obligations, the foundation for safeguarding peace and international security and developing friendly relations and co-operation among States,

Confirming their loyalty to the principle of the broadest protection of citizens belonging to ethnic groups (minorities) which derives from their Constitutions and their domestic law and which each Party applies independently and drawing also upon the principles of the Charter of the United Nations, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights,<sup>2</sup> the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination<sup>3</sup> and the International Conventions on Human Rights,<sup>4</sup>

Desiring by this Treaty to demonstrate their shared intention to expand, in the interests of the two countries, their existing ties of good-neighbourliness and peaceful co-operation,

Convinced also that this will contribute to the strengthening of peace and security in Europe,

Have agreed as follows:

Article 1. The part of the frontier between the Italian Republic and the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia not indicated as such in the Treaty of Peace with Italy of 10 February 1947<sup>5</sup> is described in the text in annex I and plotted on the map in annex II to this Treaty.

ANNEX I

The demarcation of the frontier line ends at mark 65/36, situated about 800 metres north of the village of Medeazza on the small slope of hill 127. From mark 65/36, the frontier line runs towards a small post marked B/Trieste 25610, set 24.1 metres to the east on a pile of stones. With an azimuth of 104°, it then proceeds towards an iron pipe which constitutes primary mark No. 1, situated 11.2 metres away. From here to Mt. Goli, the frontier line is marked by iron pipes projecting about 1.60 metres from the ground and painted black and white or red and white. From primary mark No. 1, the line proceeds towards the north slopes of Mt. Ermada. After crossing the Medeazza-Brestovizza rural road and leaving point 225 in Italian territory and point 246 in Yugoslav territory, the line reaches the Medeazza-Ceroglie road and passes north of Mt. Ermada. At this point, the line, shown by primary mark No. 2, is situated 7.40 metres north of the axis of the Medeazza-Ceroglie road and about 1,450 metres east of the village of Medeazza, which remains to the west. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 1 to primary mark No. 2 is given in table 1.

From primary mark No. 2, with a mean azimuth of about 180°, the line proceeds towards Mt. Ermada and, when it reaches the mule track situated about 250 metres north of its summit, changes direction and, with an azimuth of 60°, proceeds towards the Medeazza-Ceroglie road. Primary mark No. 3 is situated 7.7 metres from the axis of the road and about 1,500 metres northwest of the village of Ceroglie. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 2. to primary mark No. 3 is given in table 2.

From primary mark No. 3, the line proceeds for about 480 metres with a mean azimuth of 65° and then, with a mean azimuth of 180°, continues up to point 215. Here it changes direction and turns eastwards, with a mean azimuth of approximately 85°.

After crossing the Ceroglie-Brestovizza road about 1,000 metres from the village of Ceroglie, which remains to the south, the line passes north of Mt. Sambuco and reaches point 206, situated about 250 metres north of point 212. From there, the line continues with an azimuth of 95° for about 1,000 metres until it reaches a spot 13.3 metres from where the rural roads intersect with a drystone wall at point 167. Primary mark No. 4 is situated at this spot about 1,000 metres from the road linking the villages of Malchina and Goriano, with the road remaining to the southeast. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 3 to primary mark No. 4 is given in table 3.

From primary mark No. 4, the line continues southeastwards with a mean azimuth of approximately 160°, leaving point 218 in Italian territory and passing about 100 metres east of it. It then cuts across the intersection of the rural roads and, passing through point 202, reaches a point 3 metres from the Malchina-Goriano road. Remaining an average distance of 3.5 metres from this road, it follows it for about 560 metres in a northeasterly direction. Primary mark No. 5 is situated there, and the road up to this point remains at all times in Italian territory. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 4 to primary mark No. 5 is given in table 4.

From primary mark No. 5, after crossing the road and continuing for about 200 metres with an azimuth of 155°, the frontier line turns eastwards and, with a mean azimuth of 125° to 135°, proceeds along the slopes of Mt. Na Precnichi, passing about 200 metres northeast of point 256 on that mountain. Continuing in the same direction, the line reaches the S. Pelagio-Goriano road. Then, heading southwards, it follows the road for about 19.2 metres before reaching a point about 2 metres from the north wall of the Italian frontier-post building. It then crosses the road. Primary mark No. 6 is situated at this point, 4.7 metres from the axis of the road. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 5 to primary mark No. 6 is given in table 5.

Next, with a mean azimuth of approximately 130°, the frontier line proceeds towards the north slopes of Mt. S. Leonardo, crossing the S. Pelagio-Goriano road and passing 350 metres northeast of point 343, 150 metres from point 312 and 70 metres north of point 333 on Mt. S. Leonardo. Primary mark No. 7 is situated here, 70 metres north of point 333. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 6 to primary mark No. 7 is given in table 6.

From primary mark No. 7 the line proceeds, with a mean azimuth of approximately  $135^\circ$ , along the northeast slopes of Mt. S. Leonardo for about 900 metres and then, on a rural road, turns towards Samatorza, continues for about 300 metres and then changes direction and proceeds with an azimuth of approximately  $140^\circ$ . The mule track which it follows on this segment remains in Yugoslav territory. The frontier line then passes through point 366 and reaches point 413, where primary mark No. 8 is situated. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 7 to primary mark No. 8 is given in table 7.

From primary mark No. 8, with a mean azimuth of approximately  $90^\circ$ , the frontier line continues up to point 424 on Colle dell'Agello and then bears southwards, with an azimuth of approximately  $145^\circ$  in the first segment and then with an azimuth of  $180^\circ$ , proceeding for about 650 metres. At this point, the line turns eastwards and, with an azimuth of approximately  $100^\circ$ , reaches the north slopes of Ostri Vrh, leaving point 499 about 160 metres to the south. From here, the line proceeds to the north slopes of Mt. Lanaro, leaving point 545 about 124 metres to the south. Primary mark No. 9 is situated here. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 8 to primary mark No. 9 is given in table 8.

With a mean azimuth now of approximately  $125^\circ$ , the line proceeds towards point 497, situated about 1,000 metres from primary mark No. 9 in the direction of the village of Vercogliano di Monrupino. It then changes direction and, with an azimuth of  $138^\circ$ , continues for 450 metres, after which it turns again and, without other changes, passes through point 459 on the Colle dell'Anitra. Primary mark No. 10 is situated here, about 650 metres from the village of Vogliano which remains to the southeast. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 9 to primary mark No. 10 is given in table 9.

From primary mark No. 10, the line proceeds towards primary mark No. 11, which is situated west of the Opicina-Duttogliano road, 4.6 metres from the axis of the road and 150 metres from kilometre post No. 4 in the direction of the village of Duttogliano. In this segment, the line passes about 220 metres from the village of Vogliano (point 327), which remains to the east in Yugoslav territory, and crosses the railway line about 300 metres south of the railway bridge situated south of the Vercogliano di Monrupino station. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 10 to primary mark No. 11 is given in table 10.

From primary mark No. 11, with a mean azimuth of approximately  $130^\circ$ , the line proceeds towards Mt. Orsario and, after crossing the road from Opicina to Duttogliano and Vercogliano and leaving point 429 about 100 metres to the south in Italian territory, continues without change as far as point 473 on Mt. Orsario. From there, the line continues with a mean azimuth of approximately  $130^\circ$  for about 1,000 metres and then, with an azimuth of approximately  $175^\circ$ , reaches the Opicina-Sesana road in the locality of Ferneti. Primary mark No. 12 is situated here, 4.5 metres northwest of the former axis of the road. Primary mark No. 12 and secondary mark No. 12/1 are currently shown by metal plates fastened to the asphalt surface. The primary mark is situated in the northern lane of the road and the secondary mark in the centre of the newly constructed lanes. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 11 to primary mark No. 12 is given in table 11.

From primary mark No. 12, after intersecting the Opicina-Sesana road with an azimuth of approximately  $170^\circ$ , the line continues up to secondary mark No. 12/3, where it changes direction with a mean azimuth of approximately  $230^\circ$  and reaches the road to Orle, which it crosses about 380 metres from the intersection with the Opicina-Sesana road. The line now passes between point 370, which remains in Italian territory, and the sink-hole at point 264, which remains in Yugoslav territory. After reaching the bridge over the Trieste-Sesana railway, near the road to Orle, and 750 metres from the town, which remains to the northeast, it cuts diagonally across the bridge, leaving it available for joint use, then crosses the road and proceeds with an azimuth of approximately  $120^\circ$ , passing about 325 metres northeast of Mt. Franco (point 407). When it crosses the Trebiciano-Orle carriage road, it changes direction. From here, with a mean azimuth of approximately  $135^\circ$ , it proceeds towards Mt. dei Pini and reaches point 476. Primary mark No. 13 is situated here, 4 metres away from the old triangulation point. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 12 to primary mark No. 13 is given in table 12.

From primary mark No. 13, with an azimuth of approximately  $150^\circ$ , the line turns and continues up to the Gropada-Lipizzano road and, about 700 metres away from Gropada (crossroads) in the direction of Lipizzano, changes direction and proceeds with a mean azimuth of  $135^\circ$  towards Mt. Cocusso. It crosses the Basovizza-Sesana road at the bend at point 386 north of Basovizza and then, still with an azimuth of  $135^\circ$ , continues as far as the Basovizza-Corgnale road, where primary mark No. 14 is situated. This mark is positioned 4.8 metres from the axis of the road about 100 metres south of the crossroads, in the direction of Lipizzano (point 407). The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 13 to primary mark No. 14 is given in table 13.

From primary mark No. 14, the line proceeds with an azimuth of approximately  $129^\circ$  and crosses the Basovizza-Corgnale road and several rural roads on the southwest slope of Mt. Cocusso. Near the summit, it veers slightly eastwards and after reaching point 672, which it leaves together with a rural road in Italian territory, proceeds with an azimuth of  $107^\circ$ . It runs on for about 600 metres before reaching a rural road on the east face of Mt. Cocusso. From here with a mean azimuth of approximately  $135^\circ$ , it descends towards the church of S. Tommaso, crosses several rural roads, passes northeast of Grozzana leaving the town about 200 metres away, and reaches the rural road between Grozzana and S. Tommaso. The line passes about 150 metres west of the cemetery. Here it changes direction and, with an azimuth of approximately  $190^\circ$ , heads straight for point 621 on Mt. Goli, where primary mark No. 15 is situated. Primary mark No. 15 coincides with primary mark No. XIII. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 14 to primary mark No. 15 is given in table 14.

From primary mark No. XIII, the frontier line descends towards the Basovizza-Erpelle-Cosina road with a mean azimuth of  $245^\circ$ , crosses a rural road and then a carriage road linking Pese with the village of Vercogliano, and then crosses the Pese-Erpelle-Cosina road about 700 metres from Pese. Primary mark No. XII is situated here, on the southwest side of the road, 20 metres from the Italian frontier post at Pese. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. XIII to primary mark No. XII is given in table 15.

From primary mark No. XII, the line proceeds towards the railway line between Erpelle Cosina and Trieste and, with a mean azimuth of  $230^\circ$ , crosses it 300 metres east of the Draga S. Elia station, then twice crosses the Chervari stream and heads southeast of the railway line. Remaining south of the railway, the line proceeds as far as primary mark No. XI, situated near the entrance to the tunnel south of the town of Draga S. Elia and 550 metres southeast of Mt. Stena (point 442). The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. XII to primary mark No. XI is given in table 16.

From primary mark No. XI, the line moves on with an azimuth of  $230^\circ$  and descends towards the Botazzo stream, which it crosses 100 metres from the locality of Botazzo. Leaving the village of Botazzo in Italian territory, the line crosses a rural road, then a mule track and the Grisa stream. From here it ascends the east slopes of Mt. Carso following the steepest incline and, with a mean azimuth of approximately  $230^\circ$  in the first segment and  $255^\circ$  in the second, reaches the summit of Mt. Carso at point 457, northwest of triangulation point 326 (Mt. Carso). Primary mark No. X is situated here. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. XI to primary mark No. X is given in table 17.

From primary mark No. 12, the line proceeds southwards with a mean azimuth of  $190^\circ$ , keeping to the west face of Mt. Carso. After following the middle of the slope for about 1,500 metres, the line changes direction and, with a mean azimuth of approximately  $260^\circ$ , descends about 450 metres. From here it proceeds towards Prebenico and after 200 metres, at the intersection of the Prebenico-S. Dorligo rural roads, again changes direction and, with a mean azimuth of  $230^\circ$ , emerges from a dense wood onto the S. Dorligo-S. Servolo road. The line reaches this road about 350 metres from the intersection with the Prebenico road, which lies to the southwest, and 200 metres from the Italian frontier post. Primary mark No. IX is situated here. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. X to primary mark No. IX is given in table 18.

From primary mark No. IX, the line proceeds with a mean azimuth of 200° towards the village of Prebenico. About 100 metres from the rural road that leads towards the village, the line turns sharply southwards as far as the bend in the rural road between Prebenico and Crociata di Prebenico. From here for about 600 metres, the line follows the road, which remains entirely in Italian territory, and then with an azimuth of approximately 255° passes east of the locality of Crociata di Prebenico. With a mean azimuth of 247°, the line heads straight for the rural road linking the locality of Crociata di Prebenico with the village of Osposo, running into this road about 100 metres from the crossroads in the locality of Crociata di Prebenico, which remains to the northwest and in Italian territory. Primary mark No. VIII is positioned here, 80 metres from the Italian frontier post at Osposo. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. IX to primary mark No. VIII is given in table 19.

Proceeding from primary mark No. VIII with an initial azimuth of approximately 250°, the line crosses the Osposo stream and runs past the bridge over the road, which remains in Yugoslav territory; it then veers to the right with an azimuth of approximately 270°, turning sharply towards point 178 on Mt. de Bosco Vignano. Primary mark No. VII is situated at the summit, exactly 8 metres northeast of triangulation point 588 at point 182. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. VIII to primary mark No. VII is given in table 20.

From primary mark No. VII, the line descends with a mean azimuth of 265° to the Menariolo stream, crossing it 750 metres from the place where it flows into the Osposo stream. Still with the same azimuth, the line ascends the eminence situated about 200 metres east of the Vignano-Plavia Montedoro rural road. Primary mark No. VI is situated on this eminence at point 85, exactly 4 metres south of triangulation point 589. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. VII to primary mark No. VI is given in table 21.

From primary mark No. VI, the line leaves the eminence with a mean azimuth of 280° and proceeds towards Mt. Castellier, crossing a rural road south of Vignano after about 400 metres, then a small ravine, and then the Aquilinia-Plavia Montedoro rural road 10 metres from the Samez residence, which remains to the northwest in Italian territory. From here the line proceeds towards the Aquilinia-Albaro Vescovà road, leaving the Eller residence in Italian territory and part of the Zacchi property and some small farmhouses in Yugoslav territory. Primary mark No. V is situated to the left of the road from Albaro Vescovà to Trieste and marks the point where the line crosses the road. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. VI to primary mark No. V is given in table 22.

From primary mark No. V, the line continues towards Mt. Castellier, making slight detours to leave houses, roads and quarries in either Italian or Yugoslav territory. The Pecchiari residence and its field remain in Italian territory; the rural road to the quarries also remains in Italian territory. The line then ascends the slope towards Mt. Castellier, crossing the quarry area and leaving the Gorlato quarry in Italian territory and the Elleri quarry in Yugoslav territory. After crossing the Fioretti stream, the frontier follows the steepest incline up the face of Mt. Castellier, reaching at its summit point 244, where primary mark No. IV is situated. More exactly, the line passes 1 metre east of triangulation point 328. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. V to primary mark No. IV is given in table 23.

From primary mark No. IV, the line proceeds with an azimuth of 300°, making slight detours, towards the Muggia-Crevatini road in the village of Cerei. Specifically, as it leaves Mt. Castellier, it descends a sharp slope and crosses the S. Barbara-Elleri carriage road, after which it leaves some of the land belonging to the Mercandel and Segà properties in Italian territory. From here it proceeds towards the intersection of the Muggia-Elleri and S. Barbara-Premanzano roads and cuts across this intersection so that the road access to Premanzano remains in Yugoslav territory and the road access to S. Barbara remains in Italian territory. The line heads off with an azimuth of 300°, proceeds towards the Cerei stream which it follows for about 250 metres, and then passes alongside the Dobrigna property, leaving it in Yugoslav territory. The line next crosses the Bosco stream, leaving the land belonging to the Marsič property and the Cozlan residence with access to the Muggia road, in Italian territory. From here, the line runs straight to the frontier post at Cerei, where primary mark No. III is situated. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. IV to primary mark No. III is given in table 24.

From primary mark No. III, with an azimuth of approximately 300° and some slight detours, the line proceeds towards S. Michele hill. In so doing, it leaves the Mauro residence and the land adjacent to it in Italian territory, and the Božiči residence and the land adjacent to it in Yugoslav territory. After crossing the Pisciolon stream, the line reaches point 119, where the Lenardon property and residence are situated. At this point, the line veers, leaving the Lenardon residence and the land adjacent to it in Italian territory, and then continues towards S. Michele hill. Before ascending the east slope of the place called Pisciolon, on a level with the Božiči residence, the line veers again slightly, leaving the Muggia-Chiampore carriage road in Italian territory. It then reaches the summit of S. Michele hill 14 metres east of the triangulation point at point 197 on S. Michele. Primary mark No. II is situated here. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. III to primary mark No. II is given in table 25.

Proceeding from primary mark No. II with a mean azimuth of approximately 259°, the line leaves the summit of S. Michele and heads towards the mouth of the S. Bartolomeo stream. It leaves the water tank on S. Michele in Italian territory and then, descending the west slope of the hill, crosses the Chiampore-Crevatini road. The line continues with slight detours, leaving the Fontanot residence with a narrow strip of land in Italian territory and the Seppili farm buildings with a small section of the farm road in Yugoslav territory. The cultivated land in the Seppili property remains in Italian territory. The line now follows the plain almost without interruption, crossing the Ancarano-Lazzaretto carriage road and completing its course at primary mark No. I, situated on the right bank at the mouth of the S. Bartolomeo stream. The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. II to primary mark No. I is given in table 26.

The points and topographical data given in the description appear on the 1:25,000 and 1:50,000 maps of the Italian Military Geographic Institute (1962-1966 and 1967 editions), and the 1:50,000 map of the Military Geographic Institute of the Yugoslav People's Army (1971 edition).

The distance between the small post marked B/Trieste/256, set on a pile of stones, and primary mark No. 1 is 11.8 metres, the azimuth being 104°.

The course of the frontier line from primary mark No. 1 to primary mark No. 2 is as follows:

| Course of the frontier in a straight line | Distance in metres between marks | Azimuth | Description of the position of the mark                |
